Foreword

The prayer of the author is, that the many imperfections found in this book, may be covered with the mantle of sweet charity. Trusting that a younger hand may revise, correct, enlarge, and complete this family record representing a name so noble and a race so true. If this meager record stimulates even one of its readers to deeds of more exalted usefulness, then the efforts put forth have not been in vain. May the noble name of our ancestors be honored by their descendents.

THE AUTHOR.

Strother Coat-of-Arms

A grey-hound and three eagles, displayed on a metal shield. The mottos are:

1. Faithful unto Death.
2. Hawks seek booty, we seek glory. (In Latin.)

The Strother family coat-of-arms, which the English valued highly, were brought over the sea and carefully preserved in the Manor House, below Fredericksburg, Virginia.

The Strother Family.

There has been much discussion and difference of opinion as to derivation of the name of Strother. Some of the descendants claim that the family was originally Scotch, and spelt the name "MacStrother"; others said that it was "Anstrother"; that the branch of the family who came to America dropped the An. Judge Strother, of Giles County, while in England a number of years ago, visited the burying ground of the family in the Isle of Thanet, Kent County, England, and saw the name in its various transitions, from its original form of Straather, to its present orthography. However, it has long had its presence in England, for Chaucer has a tale of two Strother brothers, the orthography being the same as now. General David Hunter Strother, in his genealogical notes, says: "The coat of arms and family pedigree brought over from England were lost in the burning of the old manor house in Virginia 125 years ago or more, and the war of independence coming on soon afterward, the Strothers took part with the colonies, and since that date none of the family seem to have taken the trouble to revive the traditions or recover the records which showed the connection between the ancient English house and its descendants in America. As seven generations have come and gone since the emigration, we have not yet been able to obtain any precise data on that point, but depend only on vague traditions, which were preserved in my father's family, to assure us that our ancestor was Northumbrian, and came directly from the stock described in my "English Notes." There are three distinct escutcheons pertaining to the Strothers. The one borne by the main Northumbrian stocks, the same which is found in "Burke's Landed Gentry," is the one which I have been assured is the same brought over by our ancestor at Fredericksburg, Va. There was also, in my father's house, a number of quaint old ballads sung, to amuse my childhood, which I have never heard anywhere else, and which I have since ascertained are peculiar to Northumberland, and are sung there to this day. Moreover, I had a double-cased silver watch (stolen from me 45 years ago), which had come down to my father from his great ancestor at Fredericksburg, on the inner case of which was engraved the same heraldric device, which I have since seen in the Herald's office at London, pertaining to the Strother family of Northumberland.

This family is an ancient one, and is of Scandinavian origin. The name exists in Sweden and Denmark at the present time. Whatever its remote derivation, the name in its present form has existed several hundred years. It was carried by the Danish rovers, and planted in the country of Northumberland, England, some time in the tenth century. In this country the name and family have been conspicuous for centuries. Its inter-marriages have been with some of the most influential and prominent families in Northern England. Alan del Strother, Lord of Lyham, was High Sheriff of Northumberland from 1354 to 1357, and "warden of the border." His son, Alan del Strother, was also High Sheriff and warden of the castle and shire of Rosburgh, and he in turn was succeeded by his son Henry. In 1440 William del Strother, a grandson of Lord Lyham, married a daughter of Robert Wallington, and lived at Castle Strother in Glendale.

1. William Strother, first of the name, and founder of the family, emigrated from Northumberland, England. Date and particulars of emigration are unknown. Reaching Virginia, he settled in Cittenborne parish on the Rappahannock river, near the present Port Conway, then in the Rappahannock, later in Richmond, and now in King George Co. His name appears the first time, when on July 12, 1673, he came into court of old Rappahannock Co., to designate the mark of his cattle. Rappahannock was at this period a frontier county, and the settlers unprotected and scattered. Much suffering was experienced from attacks "by ye Barbarous Indyans." Among his neighbors were Capt. Anthony Savage, and the latter's son-in-law, Francis Thornton. His will, dated Dec. 30, 1700, was probated in Richmond Co., Nov. 4, 1702; names wife Dorothy; devised one-half the land he lived on, with the "mansion," to his eldest son William 2 after death of his wife; the other half to son James 2; the rest of his lands to sons Robert 2 and Benjamin 2, after providing for the education of his son Joseph 2, and with a special bequest to grandson "Will" Strother 3. It is provided that "All the rest and residue of my personal estate goods and chattels, with all the crop of corn and tobacco and servants, I give and bequeath to my loving wife Dorothy Strother, during the time of her widowhood; but if my s'd wife shall otherwise dispose of herself, as to marry again, my will is that of my son James 2, do order an account to be taken of my s'd personal estate and that it may be equally divided between her and my sons James 2, Jeremy 2, Robert 2, Benjamin 2, and Joseph 2, ex'ors—wife and son James 2, wits.—James Phillips, Edward Langdree, William Smith. II. William Strother 2 (William 1) was born probably 1665-75. He was a planter, and lived at the original seat of his father, now in King George Co. On Dec. 20, 1718, there was patented to Wm. Cocke, Chicheley Corbin Thacker, Francis Thornton, Jr., and Wm. Strother 2, 6,000 acres of land in St. Mary's Parish, Essex county (now Spottsylvania), beginning on a great swamp called Massaponnax, about three miles from the Falls of the Rappahannock. He was a vestryman of Hanover Parish, and Sheriff of King George Co. He married Margaret, b. April 2, 1678, dau. of Francis Thornton (son of the first Wm. Thornton, of Gloucester Co.), and his wife Alice, dau. of Capt. Anthony Savage, of Gloucester county. In 1722 he gave to his son "Will" Strother 3, Jr., the land devised him by his father, except what had been sold to John Strother. On Aug. 1, 1727, Margaret Strother, widow, conveyed to her son William 3, 300 acres of land given by her grandfather Anthony Savage to her father Francis Thornton and wife Alice, on the Rappahannock river, except one-half acre for burying ground, including the graves therein. On the same day, she gave by deed to her son Francis 3, of Hanover Co., certain slaves with reversion to her grandson William Strother 4. On July 26, 1726, his will was admitted to probate,

(4) Benjamin 3, of Stafford, m. Mary (Mason), widow of George Fitzhugh. On Jan. 8, 1723-4, "Margaret Strother, wife of Wm. Strother 3, Jr., gave a power of attorney to "loving brother" Benjamin Strother 3, to convey dower. This was Margaret Watts, wife of William 3, and the power of attorney fixes definitely the fact that Benjamin 3 was son of William Strother. On July 14, 1741, he received a grant of 419 acres of land in Stafford Co. In 1756 Thomas Hurt executes a conveyance to him; and in 1760 he makes a deed of certain slaves to his daughter Anne. After the destruction of the old mansion house of his grandfather, the first William Strother 1, he sold his estate near Port Conway, and purchased on the river opposite Fredericksburg, in 1727. The latter place was sold by his widow and ex'trx Nov. 3, 1738, to Augustine Washington, father of General Geo. Washington. On May 26, 1727, he received a grant for 266 acres in King George Co., and Sept. 12, 1731, as "Captain" William Strother, 372 acres in Prince William Co. He was sheriff and justice of King George Co., and vestryman of the parish. He married Margaret Watts, who, on his death, married (2) John Grant. In March, 1737, she asked for a reapportionment of the estate of her late husband, and Hancock Lee, Abram Kenyon, and John Grant were appointed to make it, and to set aside to her one-seventh of the estate. On Nov. 3, 1738, Anthony Strother 3, qualified as "guardian of Elizabeth 4, Agatha 4, Margaret 4, Ann 4, and Jane 4, five of the children of William Strother 3, dec'd," and gave bond to pay five-sevenths of the debts of said William. IX. William Strother 4 (Francis 3, William 2, William 1) was b. probably in Hanover Co., about 1725. From the failure of Francis Strother 3, of St. Mark's, to mention him by name in his will, no doubt has been expressed as to his being a son. But apart from this failure, the cause for which does not appear, there can hardly be a reasonable doubt on the point. On Aug. 1, 1727, Margaret (Thornton) Strother gave by deed to her son Francis Strother 3, of Hanover Co., certain slaves with reversion to her grandson William Strother 4. The connection here would clearly indicate that William was the son of Francis, rather than of anyone else, a conclusion further strengthened by the fact that none of her other sons, so far as can be discovered from record and other sources, had a son named William, of his age. In 1749, there was a grant of 400 acres in Orange Co., forks of Rush river, adjoining Francis 3, and John Strother 4, to William Strother 4, son of Francis 3, which grant was subsequently sold by William 4, to John Strother 4. Rev. George Strother 5, of Trimble Co., Ky., b. in Culpeper Co., Va. (son of John F. Strother 4, and Anne 5, dau. of Capt. John Strother 4), was consequently a great nephew of this William 4, living in the same region must have known him. The former has left a record in which he places William 4, as son of Francis 3, of St. Mark's, and brother of his grandfather John 4, who he says was b. in Hanover Co. As will be seen below, the names of the children all show evidence of descent from a DABNEY intermarriage—such as "Susannah" (name of the wife of Francis, of St. Mark's, and also of his dau.), and William "Dabney" Strother. He was a large landed proprietor in Culpeper and Orange. He m. prior to Feb. 20, 1752, (1) Mrs. Sarah (Bayly) Pannill, widow of Wm. Pannill. She was originally of Urbana, in Middlesex Co., Va. of William Pannill, late of the county of Culpeper," convey to her sons, William and David Pannill, 100 acres in Orange. His wife d. 1774, and her will, dated Aug. 23, 1774, was prob. Betsy, dau. of Robt. and Rebecca Campbell, m. Alexander Sneed, of Ky., whose father was John Sneed, a Revolutionary Veteran, who died Jan., 1856.

DEATH OF A REVOLUTIONARY VETERAN.

Passing away—they are passing away. Soon, very soon, the announcement that another Revolutionary soldier is gone, will be seen no more in the newspapers of the day—for but a small number of those patriot veterans now remain "in the land of the living," and in a few more years, they will all be gone, leaving the rich heritage for which they fought, bled and suffered through long years of adversity, and discouragement, to the awe and patriotism of their descendants.

Mr. John Sneed died at the residence of his son Alexander Sneed, Esq., near Danville, Ky., Jan., 1856.

He was b. in Albemarle Co., Va., on the second of Feb., 1755. Was for some years the secretary of Thomas Jefferson, then volunteered in an expedition against the Cherokee Indians, and after that became a soldier in the Revolutionary struggle, in which service he continued until the close of the war. He was with Washington at Valley Forge, during all the privations of that disastrous period. Afterwards fought under the same great Chieftain at MonMouth, and was one of that gallant army who received the thanks of Congress for their conduct in this engagement. He was then detailed with a number of picked men from various regiments to the command of Col. Morgan, and finally went to the south with Green, under whom he served until the expiration of the war.

At the battle of Guilford, he was taken prisoner, and when conducted into the presence of Lord Cornwallis, the following question was put to him by that nobleman: "Where is the baggage of the American army?" "Out of your reach, sir," was the reply. "Why so?" "Because the American army is between you and it." When peace returned, he emigrated from Virginia to this state (Ky.), and here lived until almost one hundred and one years old. His one hundredth birthday was celebrated in Feb. last, at the residence of his son, by a centennial dinner, where he met many of his relations and friends. He had for several years preceding his death, felt the weight of time heavily upon him, and was of course infirm with age. He was surrounded by affectionate and dutiful descendants, who did everything in their power to render him comfortable and happy. He has now departed from the walks of men, full of honor and of years. Peace to his ashes.

Alexander and Betsy Campbell Sneed had seven children. She d. Jan. 28, 1823.
